

Privacy Policy

W & B Broadcasting, Inc. and its radio station, WAKY Radio, respect the personal privacy of visitors to our website. Please read this Internet Privacy Policy carefully so that you understand what information we collect through our websites, what we do with that information, and how to safeguard the personal information you provide to us.

INTERNET PRIVACY POLICY

When you provide your personal information at wakyradio.com, we will not give or sell your personal information to any outside company for its use in marketing or solicitation without your permission, which may be express or implied. We will maintain the confidentiality of your personal information and it will be used only to support your customer relationship with our radio station and to assist us in providing better and more targeted services to you. Additionally, internal practices are in place to help protect your privacy by limiting employee access to and use of customer information. We allow our listeners to maintain control over their personal information while attempting to provide a more interactive online experience. Our intention is to send e-mail and or text messages only to listeners/customers who have chosen to receive such communications. At any time, you have the right to decline receiving future communications from our station in any manner, including email, telephone and postal mail.

HOW WE COLLECT INFORMATION

When you browse wakyradio.com, you do so anonymously. Personal information—including your e-mail address—is not collected. However, there are three (3) ways in which wakyradio.com may collect information about you.

1. We may request that you voluntarily provide personal information for purposes such as correspondence, event information for our calendar, site registration, membership, making a purchase, or participating in contests or online surveys. Information that we ask you to provide may include your name, e-mail address, telephone number, mailing address and birth date. We may also request that you provide listener/customer preference information, lifestyle interests, and other demographic information that may be needed to register.
2. Like many other commercial websites, wakyradio.com may use a standard technology called a "cookie" to collect information about how our websites are used. Cookies are small text files on your system used for keeping track of settings or data for a particular website. You may turn them off through your browser or set your browser to notify you before accepting them. Any information that we may store in cookies is used for internal purposes only.
3. Each time wakyradio.com's pages are requested from your browser, we log your computer's IP address into our log files. Your computer has been pre-assigned a 12-digit number from your Internet Service Provider and may be static or dynamically assigned—this number is the IP address.

THE INFORMATION WE COLLECT

We collect only information that is needed, and we tell listeners/customers how we use it. We limit the collection of information about our listeners/customers to what we need to know to manage their membership, to provide customer service, to offer new products and services, and to fulfill any legal and regulatory requirements. We tell our listeners/customers about the general uses of information we collect about them, and we will provide additional explanation if requested. A listener/customer may change, update or add additional information about themselves at any time by emailing rbell@wakyradio.com.

SECURITY

Access to listener/customer information is limited to those who specifically need it to conduct business responsibilities. In addition to providing listeners/customers with the opportunity to refuse marketing offers, we release information only at the listeners'/customers' requests, or when required to do so by law or other regulatory authority. When a court order or subpoena requires us to release information, we notify the listener/customer directly so that his/her legal rights can be exercised, if appropriate. The only exceptions to this policy are when we are prohibited by court order or law from notifying the listener/customer, or cases in which fraud and/or criminal activity is suspected.

USE AND DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION

As a result of providing your personal information to us, wakyradio.com can provide a more customized online experience, making your interaction with us more productive, helpful and fun, and will enhance the services and offers our radio station bring to you. If you provide us with your e-mail address, or have done so in the past, we may send you e-mail offers or newsletters. These offers or newsletters are based on information you provided in your membership application, registration forms, surveys, or from information that may indicate purchasing preferences and lifestyle, as well as information available from external sources. These e-mail offers will come from us only. Your information or email address is never sold to a third party. All offers are carefully developed to guarantee that they meet our standards. Our goal is to target offers to listeners/customers who will find them of value. At any time, you may request to discontinue receiving these communications from us by simply replying to the e-mail address included in every e-mail message that you receive.

From time to time, we may offer contests or other promotions on our website. If you enter a contest or participate in a promotional event, we will ask you to provide information about yourself (such as your name, address, and email address). Among other things, we will need this information to contact you if you win, and we may also use this information for marketing purposes. We may share this information with any co-sponsors of the contest or promotional event; co-sponsors will be identified in the contest rules. We may also share this information with other third-party service providers that help administer our contests and promotional events, such as by conducting drawings, and/or delivering prizes to winners. If you do not want to provide the requested information or have the information provided to co-sponsors or other third-party service providers, please do not enter the contest or participate in the promotional event.

At times, we or our clients might collect personal information from listeners on-site at a retail location or other station events. The station may help facilitate the collection of the information by providing forms and collection boxes. Information gathered in this manner may be shared with our client partners; and other information you may have previously provided to us remains private.

We do monitor URL click-throughs found in our email messages. The click-through rate is reviewed in order to track (i) participation in contests to judge effectiveness and award prizes; (ii) listener interests; and/or (iii) response rates for station-marketing purposes or to report to a client in aggregate form only, the response of listeners. Individual activity is never shared with employees or third parties.
